

CLIENT: GREGGS
 LOCATION: Stratford Westfield
 DESCRIPTION: Full Electrical Installation
 DATE: August 2011

We are pleased to be part of high street baker Greggs aggressive expansion campaign, completing many electrical installations for new concepts and traditional refits throughout the UK. This project saw us undertake the electrical installation for Greggs premier Stratford Westfield site. This took the Greggs brand to a new level appropriate for the Olympic site.

Our electrical work for Greggs involves us being proactive in the utilisation of 'lean' principles, working together with principle contractors to reduce traditional site times, provide competitive costs and ensure that projects are delivered to the highest standard.

Greggs are the largest bakery chain in the United Kingdom. John Gregg opened a small bakery on Gosforth High Street in 1951 with a single shop and bakery at the rear. The group currently has 1,400 retail outlets and plan to open another 600 shops in the coming years.

Testimonial:
 What the client said:

"The quality of the fit out at Stratford was excellent and was commented on by several members of the retail team. Please pass on my congratulations and thanks to Nigel and everyone else involved in the project. We look forward to seeing the same level of quality at Camden. Thanks again to the whole team".
