

Archer Electrical

CASE STUDY/RETAIL/ 003 AUG 11

CLIENT: CHANEL / TOM FORD - HARRODS
 LOCATION: Knightsbridge, London
 DESCRIPTION: Electrical Installation to Concessions
 DATE: August 2011

We are proud to be awarded with approved contractor's status for London's iconic store Harrods. These projects for Chanel and Tom Ford comprised of us undertaking the electrics for their concessions within the department store. Co-ordination with other trades and Harrods project management team was paramount, whilst adhering to the constraints of night time working to cordon off areas.

Maison de chanel has through successful years become to be one of the most recognized names in luxury and haute couture fashion. The Tom Ford brand was created in 2005 and has now launched its first UK women's accessories shop in Harrods.

Testimonial:
 What the client said:

"We found Archer Electrical to be very pro-active in working with us on the Tom Ford project within Harrods, their knowledge of the electrical systems within Harrods was invaluable. AAE are a well organised and efficient company I would certainly recommend them"

Ja rome Warrilow
 Managing Director - Apex Displays

