

Archer Electrical

CASE STUDY/RETAIL/ 049 JUNE 2013

CLIENT: KURT GEIGER
LOCATION: Harrods Knightsbridge
DESCRIPTION: Refurbishment
DATE: June 2013

Harrods Electrical Contractor Archer Electrical completed yet another project for Knightsbridge's world renowned store, on this occasion, within the menswear in-store concession for Kurt Geiger. AAE Electrician's used their knowledge and experience in working within Harrods to alter and upgrade the existing electrical scheme for this world leading designer footwear retailer. Our replacement lighting included LED lighting also providing sheet style LED to illuminate the acrylic signage. The existing feature chandelier was re-vamped with energy saving dimmable lamps. The completed refurbishment refreshed the existing concept whilst retaining the distinctive look and feel of a Kurt Geiger in-store concessions.

Kurt Geiger is a British-based company with a strong London heritage. Since its launch in Britain's fashion capital on Bond Street, London in 1963, Kurt Geiger has over 200 stores and concessions worldwide including within the most prestigious department stores in the UK, US and Europe.

Testimonial:
What the client said:

"The project was completed within a short time scale and was achieved within the agreed budget . We would certainly use Archer Electrical again and happily recommend them "

Grant Pendreigh,
Contracts Manager, Garenne Shopfitting

KURT GEIGER

